

EA Revolution Premium

This main reverse system does not use martingales or grids but has one mediation when the market does not go in the right direction.

It uses a 200-period moving average to find the underlying trend and uses RSI and Stochastics to identify overbought/oversold areas.

It is mainly used on TF: H1

Doesn't open many trades, but the ones it does open are almost always in profit. It has a Stop loss.

I have currently been monitoring it for about 7 weeks, and it has an average of 95% positive trades. It can be used on 28 forex crosses.
